

Autumn

Walking through our park today
Saw nature at its best.

Splash of gold and dots of red
A blue jay down to rest.

Natives surely must have thought
The harvest God was grand.

That He would take time to paint
Such glories on the land.